

Caribex helps Homeland Security

By: Peter Chatt

This move was done for the Department of Homeland Security for the division of Customs and Border Protection located at the Aguadilla, Puerto Rico Airport.

This UH-60 Black Hawk Helicopter is being moved from Aguadilla to a location in Texas for repairs.

The value of this helicopter varies according to the equipment installed, but most of them are between 7-10 million dollars. The aircraft has an estimated empty weight of 12,000 pounds.

An additional HC40' container will be used to move all the blades and some additional equipment. An extendable double-drop deck was utilized to move this equipment.
